36 Public Policy Questions to Energize Your Government/History Classroom Debates

In describing that interview, Lord Stratford says, 'I then endeavoured to give him a just idea of the degree of danger to which his Empire was exposed. I am not connected with a powerful sect in England.

Speeches On Questions Of Public Policy, Volume 1 by John Bright

Again, what war could be more popular than the French war? Gentleman at the head of the Government, to the effect that there was no crisis at all-- that, in point of fact, the condition of Ireland was a normal condition, and that there was no necessity for anything remarkable or unusual in the legislation that was required. Whenever zeal creeps into a State Church, it takes naturally different forms--one strongly Evangelical, another strongly High Church or Ritualist--and these two species of zeal work on and on in opposition, until finally there comes a catastrophe, and it is found that it is not Mr.

Now, it seems to me quite impossible to discuss this question without considering the actual condition of Turkey.

Policy Advocacy / Problem Solution Speech

They have their churches and their priests' houses in many places. But this year's surplus is gone, and next year's surplus is gone with it; and you have already passed a Bill to double the income- tax. Do not let any one suppose that I join in the terms which I regretted to hear from the right hon.
