The implication is of a battle between the 'kings' of Summer and Winter⁴³ in which the 'Summer King' is killed, and also that his consort is hostile to him .

Roger Wendover and Matthew Paris

The actual nucleus of the early part of Roger's Flowers of History is supposed to have been the compilation of John de Cella also known as , who was abbot of St Albans from 1195 to 1214, although that is inconclusive.

Flores Historiarum

Roger Wendover and Matthew Paris : being the eleventh lecture on the David Murray foundation in the University of Glasgow delivered on March 9th, 1944. There is a brief addendum about copies of the Charter issued by Simon de Montfort in 1265, copies which seem to indicate significant changes were made to the text. There are, likewise, similar repairs in Corpus 26, where the inserted leaves are now paged as folios 8r—10v, 16r—16v, 19r—19v, and 127r—128v.
