Sen. Graham Goes to Oconee

Within the next few weeks the settlement's population was increased by small accessions from Charleston; but in May, 1733, a vessel, the James, dropped anchor at Savannah with a list of seventeen passengers, all of whom had been approved by the trustees and transported at the expense of the corporation. We need more minority folks in Alliance, but it's not as easy as it sounds. GENEALOGICAL ABSTRACTS, DUPLIN COUNTY WILLS, 1730 - 1860.
