Excluding 50 Percent of the World's Population Has Real Consequences

You - as what appears to be a privileged, white, little boy - simply do not have to worry about what has happened to women for centuries. It is mostly about the gender data gap: the fact that nearly all studies and research, even medical testing, isn't disaggregated by sex, so there is next to no data about how anything in our societies, which tend to be designed by men for men, affects women differently than men.

Invisible Woman

Most anyone with a clitoris can tell you that most of their orgasms are triggered by external stimulation and yet toy after toys after toy is developed for internal use only. We were the ones who did not count. They don't give any kind of appreciation, allowance or financial help to mothers without whose immense pain and effort each nation would die out because no kids would be born anymore.

Invisible Women: Data Bias in a World Designed for Men by Caroline Criado Pérez

This can be done in a direct, evil way by treating minorities, women, atheists, etc. It is an exposé of how the gender data gap harms women when life proceeds, more or less as normal. She achieves these feats by mentally bending all wavelengths of visible, infrared, and ultraviolet light to bend around herself or her target without causing any visible distortion effects.

Invisible Women

I bought this book intending it to be a gift for a family member. Some will never believe something even if every woman in their life says it.

The Invisible Woman (2013)

Invisible Women reveals how in a world built for and by men we are systematically ignoring half of the population, often with disastrous consequences.
