These are meaningful poems, particularly at this time when peace is being shredded into pieces. If we grow in nervousness, we will not be able even to control our own family needs or to be support for our own children. Since we develop this soulful palace of tranquillity, we will become aware of our own necessity of equilibrium, and will begin to think in a different way about ourselves and the others.

Isn't virtue a knotty and complicated habit that requires a lot of enforcement from will, creating tiredness, far away from pleasure? Mahendra Bhatnagar's Poetry Death Perception : Life Perception Passion and Compassion Poems : For A Better World A Handful of Light Lyric-Lute. The bad ones are those, which appear when we feel depressed or sorrowful. But, how would us find happiness in the middle of a global disaster, where countries, continents and even races and religions, are distant from a clever agreement and a wise legality that conducts the groups to a better future of harmony? And the suppression of the voice of peace We shall not allow! Once expressed, it acquires proper life.
