Police Department

That was yesterday, and today I did the Brewfest Dungeon daily with my warrior and got the Great Brewfest Kodo! But I rode to Storm Peaks on my freshly obtained Phosphorescent Stone Drake which I wasn't camping for, and killed the TLPD on the way to the daily. The Aberrations Must Die quest is available every day. Then, while helping my brother on his quests in Storm Peaks, guess what.

Reins of the White Polar Bear

As it dropped on about my 4th bag of spoils I was a little concerned it wasn't actually that rare and would become almost as common as the Black War Bear currently is on my server. I'm thinking this because blizz already did a similar thing with outland fishing quests where you could obtain the crocolisk pet only when there was the specific daily quest Crocolisk in the City.

Don't give up, if anything maybe take a few days off from it and then come back if ur not having luck Comment by FritheJust got it today after only doing the mining daily twice. Eventually the quest giver may tire of being pelted with snowballs and hand over those reins. Comment by 133472I have a question for the people that have obtained this.

Reins of the White Polar Bear

When Brewfest started, I decided to break out my warrior and get him the Brewmaster title, since I had gotten the Flame Warden title on him during the Summer Fire Festival. Entering the village does not grant the buff lokliras bargain - which makes you friendly therefore allowing you to do the dailies and I cannot find the Crone who gives the buff when you speak to her. Having asked the zone and guild members, I found I was not the only one who was only getting offered one and it's been like this for a long time.
