Murder on the Mountain The John Estes Mystery

In fact there wasn't any town here, not even a settlement, and as the Kentucky colony got on top of the hill, which is now court square in Harrisburg, there was but one house within four miles of this immediate locality, and that was a double log house owned and occupied by Mathias Gaskins, possibly the first man to enter this community. UPCOMING EVENTS March 1: Post-World War II Quilt Display, through March 31 at the Senator George W.
