Characteristics of 20th Century Literature

This work was shelved by Wladimir Porché, the Director of French Radio, the day before its scheduled airing on 2 February 1948, partly for its , , and references and pronouncements, but also because of its general randomness, with a cacophony of sounds mixed with various elements.

Poetry in the post-war period followed a number of interlinked paths, most notably deriving from surrealism such as with the early work of , or from philosophical and phenomenological concerns stemming from , , existentialism, the relationship between poetry and the visual arts, and 's notions of the limits of language. Distinguished scholar and editor Mary Ann Caws has chosen work by more than 100 poets. In the end of the 1960s, however, French society grew tired of the heavy-handed, patriarchal Gaullist approach, and of the incompatibilities between modern life and old traditions and institutions.

Theatre design

Any ideas for theatre design that emerge with the introduction of theatre into a culture are therefore transformed as they are blended with the design of these preexisting spaces. France: 1815 to the Present 1940 pp 349—501.
