Retardation

Currently, schools do not provide a complete range of programming alternatives that are sufficiently broad in scope and yet sensitive enough to be responsive to unique nuances and variations of student learning patterns and needs. The next 5--10 years now need to emphasize the development and implementation of quality special education services for these youths. Major variables affecting susceptibility include age younger mothers are more susceptible than older mothers and socioeconomic status.

Characteristics of Incarcerated Delinquents: Relationship between Development Disorders, Environmental and Family Factors, and Patterns of Offense and Recidivism

To these ends, IDEA has helped state and local education agencies to educate all students with disabilities, no matter what the nature or severity of their disabilities. The noun retard is particularly seen as pejorative; a survey in 2003 ranked it as the most offensive disability-related word, ahead of terms such as or its abbreviation spaz and. Directing OSERS to Provide Categorical Funding for LD Initiatives Congress should direct OSERS to create targeted funding opportunities to support research, demonstration, and personnel preparation efforts in the learning disabilities field through IDEA appropriations.
