At the heart of Turabian is the idea that, no matter the format, the foundations of good research remain the same: to do it carefully, present it clearly and accurately, and follow academic standards for citation, style, and format. An introduction to Chicago-style formatting and citation generation, the manual aids students in clear writing, citing, and research practice. The ninth edition filters decades of expertise into modern standards.

This new edition continues as the gold standard for college and graduate students in virtually all academic disciplines. Recognizing that most students will be doing their work largely or entirely online and on screens, this new edition builds information literacy by addressing digital forms of both research and writing. This information may be about you, your preferences or your device, and is often used to make the site work as you expect it to.
