Swing Riots

Such views of the commons squatters survived as long as the commons themselves. Bickerton, however, may have been better placed than the rackrented farmer more typical of the mid 19th century: occupying a lease of over 300 a.

West Dorset

They were generally used to drive the early designs of threshing machine that would take up to 4 horses to operate. By 1833 the Lilleshall estate rents, after an abnormally steep increase, averaged 26 s. The monument to John Mytton's agency for the eccentric 2nd earl of Kilmorey in the 1830s was a deserted and dilapidated estate.

The Dorset Farm labourer by Thomas Hardy

Horses, ploughteams, cattle, and estate landscapes were painted by artists such as Thomas Weaver of Shrewsbury 1775—1844 and, somewhat later, William Gwynn of Ludlow.

Bloxworth 1851 Census

John Hill, of the Citadel, Weston-under-Redcastle, was highly commended twice and commended twice for his Essex and Neapolitan cross-bred sows at the Royal Agricultural Society's 1845 show in Shrewsbury and Neapolitan pigs descended from his stock were offered for sale at Stanton upon Hine Heath in 1852.

An Economic History of the English Poor Law, 1750

As an expat, I love Australia because I was raised here and became who I am as a result of it. Thomas Wells, another Staffordshire ironmaster, bought Eaton Mascott and Berrington in the 1860s.

Agriculture since 1870

Overwhelmingly the pig output of Wiltshire has continued to come from farmers to whom pig keeping is a subsidiary activity.

An Economic History of the English Poor Law, 1750

Even in Young's day the poor rate might be as much as a quarter of the rent of a farm, and in 1814 there were many parishes in the south where there was not a single labourer's family not on the poor rate.

Bloxworth 1851 Census

By 1913 permanent grassland occupied over one third of the country's cultivated area and over one sixth was agriculturally unproductive. A 21-year lease, at under double what was then paid by tenants holding from year to year, would be granted to improve the 'miserable houses and roads', and the farming, which was 'the most unprofitable system of management imaginable'. Act, that for Upton common, Shifnal, is that stated in 53 Geo.
