Accommodation in Trieste, lunch on weekdays and study trips in Italy and Slovenia are also fully covered. A Unique opportunity Sustainable development driven by blue economy is a shared vision for the Euro-Mediterranean area and of concern to both Northern and Southern Mediterranean countries. Whilst the Middles East and North Africa MENA region could further benefit from increased internationalization of its tertiary education sector, it has not yet taken full advantage of this opportunity.

Regional seminar: Civic education for youth in the Mediterranean

Teachers are called upon to transmit and reproduce the culture and values of their society, while at the very same time remaining open to-if not actually facilitating the learning of-new knowledge, skills, attitudes and technologies.

A limited understanding of the question topic, coupled with below-average logical skills, inconsistent efforts both to discuss the relevant aspects of a topic and to explain the economic reasoning will lead to a mark in the range of 1-2 points for an answer. The results vary greatly, with striking differences in completion rates between richer and poorer households, further exacerbating inequality.

Lebanese Association For Education Studies

The Bank contributed more than financing, however; it also contributed lessons drawn from cross-sectoral experience in the design of results-based financing operations and just-in-time implementation support that made it feasible to adjust the project to address government priorities for further strengthening its objectives, such as support for implementation of the Teacher Reform Law. By the end of 2017, the armed conflicts in Syria, Iraq and Yemen brought back the number of regional out-of-school children to its 2007 level of over 14.
