

Early Cape Breton newspapers.

Cape Breton Genealogical Society - Geographical Index List: Nova Scotia

Description: -
-Early Cape Breton newspapers.
-Early Cape Breton newspapers.
Notes: Includes index.
This edition was published in 1994

Filesize: 64.66 MB

Tags: #Cape #Breton #Post #epaper

CBHs

Although theirs is the most common surname in the area, there are also Campbells, Gillies and MacKinnons - many of the latter descendants of a Finlay MacKinnon who came to Barra from Elgol in Skye as a maor, or assistant factor. McGRATH Word was received here Wednesday night of the death at Moncton, NB, of Mrs W.

Cape Breton County, Nova Scotia Genealogy • FamilySearch

Ship-building Large scale shipbuilding began in the 1790s, beginning with schooners for local trade moving in the 1820s to larger brigs and brigantines, mostly built for British shipowners. Native of County Cork, Ireland.

History of Cape Breton Island

The story is well-known of Donald Og MacNeil, who returned from the Siege of Louisburg in 1756 full of the praises of the Bras d'Or. Stewartdale Editor's note--no day or month available; December 31 entered for proper indexing.

Cape Breton County, Nova Scotia Genealogy • FamilySearch

McKenzie died while working on the Schooner BALTIC. There were to be emigrants from England and Ireland in Gabarus and Margaree, and Acadian settlers in Cheticamp and Isle Madame, but otherwise, Cape Breton was to become another Hebrides, on the other side of the Atlantic.

Early Cape Breton newspapers : vital statistics and items ... : Book, Regular Print Book : Toronto Public Library

Registrar Jas McNeil of Grand Narrows. A molasses cake served during a mid-winter feast celebration at the school was the source of the cannabis that resulted in one person taken to hospital by ambulance and several others also reported being affected. We are confident that the material on the CBGHA site is of excellent quality and was prepared with all reasonable care but human error is a possibility.

Cape Breton Highlander Newspaper

However, historians are unclear as to whether Cabot first visited Newfoundland or Cape Breton Island.

Cape Breton Highlander Newspaper

The original home and habitat of the McNeils of the Cove was the Isle of Barra on the west coast of Scotland.

CB Obits Years Prior to 1900

Although Louisbourg was captured by New Englanders with British naval assistance in 1745 and by the British again in 1758, Île Royale remained formally part of colonial France until it was ceded to Britain under the Treaty of Paris in 1763. John Roderick Lyle, 58, of Richmond Street is charged with possession for the purpose of trafficking in cocaine. February 3, 2021 Have you read latest CBRM Central Library study? Individual membership is worldwide, and also includes several genealogy and historical groups that access CBGHA records regularly, including the , , the Sydney Family History Center , the , the , the , and the.

Related Books

- Dark Man, and others
- Congreso Constituyente del Estado libre y soberano de México, 1917
- Imām al-Husayn - qabas min nubūwwah
- A bite of history - recipes & tales from the Mesilla Valley
- Forgotten eagle - Wiley Post, Americas heroic aviation pioneer