Volunteers

Before you start, you should do some background research on greywater—for example, what it contains, and the proper methods for handling it. Circuit diagram for the soil moisture sensor. This planting is part of Tree For All, a partnership which has planted more than ten million native plants in the Tualatin River Watershed since 2005! The safety of volunteers and staff is our number one priority at Friends of Trees.

Creating habitats for bees in an urban environment

Not only does it protect migratory birds from preventable harm, it helps buildings and businesses reduce their energy demands, lowering their energy costs.

Volunteers

What obstacles did Joshua face? We apologize for this inconvenience, and hope to plant with the public at this event next year! Every day, these dedicated volunteers work with conservation professionals on private lands to improve soil quality, conserve water, improve air quality and enhance wildlife habitat.

WHITE HARVEST FARMS

He actually did that for his entire month, and try to communicate what was happening here in his own way. Please be safe and follow guidelines from health authorities and take good care of yourself. This planting is possible with the support of Clackamas County Water Environment Services.

WHITE HARVEST FARMS

We welcome people of all ages and abilities.

Volunteers

This notch should face up, toward row 1. We are hoping to make the organization self-sustaining by establishing income generation projects and endowment funds. Friends of Trees continues to follow the guidelines and recommendations made by the CDC and Oregon Health Authority.

Volunteers

Cater it to what you need! Supporting you to feel good, to get an effective workout, and to be outside into nature! BACT also forms the Tower Lakes Drain Watershed Partnership as part of its efforts to protect wetlands and address concerns about water quality. Interested in receiving a tree? Covid-19 rates remain high, new virus strains are a concern, vaccination rates in Oregon are low, and Multnomah County is considered.
