When Table: Schooled Bard indicates that the schooled bard gets 0 spells per day of a given spell level, he gains only the bonus spells he would be entitled to based on his score for that spell level. Whilst still at school and having become a volunteer 'pupil librarian', one writer and tutor was tasked with encouraging her teenage male peers to borrow more books from the school library and take up reading as a recreational activity and recommending books that would facilitate this from potential new stock; she found through peer reviews, questionnaires and a mini-poll that, 'alongside the contemporary, competitive sports-based stories of authors such as Michael Hardcastle and the humorous stories of such as Dick King-Smith, the other of the 'big three' for boys was Douglas Hill. Every has a verbal component singing, reciting, or music.
