Arrange the rows according to the planting dates of various crops, so only a narrow strip needs to be prepared for the early plants. Even with regular watering, baking asphalt is hard on seedlings.

Gardening

Successive plantings can be made for several weeks to prolong the harvest season. While you are gardening, you will be pushing a wheelbarrow, digging, walking up and down while carrying things, reaching, and cutting — all of these actions are a form of exercise. Protect Plants Use small pieces of brush or other available material to shade plants until they are well established.
