Organizational Change and Development

Finally, this book is important because of the collaboration it represents in itself. Since staff did not have much experience with semi-structured interviewing, the external researchers suggested adopting bio-resource flow diagrams as a tool for identifying local indicators of farming systems change. By contrasting the tole assessments, the Box 2.

Action learning

To be sure, it cannot be divorced from individual learning since individuals manage and operate organizations. In particular, tough quality-control systems exercised from the top of the hierarchy may have the unintended effect of generating fear of retribution and its unpleasant corollary: the hiding of errors. Further, we identify additional literature, not traditionally considered within the realm of leadership development that may help advance empirical examinations of these approaches.

Use of Action Research in Nursing Education. Praxis still has to show whether farmers and farmer-extensionists will use PRA and other participatory tools in the future to construct the kind of evaluation system that makes most sense for the organization and that captures the types of change processes they want to see functioning in their communities.

Many of these local initiatives are carried out informally, and they provide rich potential for developing innovative approaches to monitor and evaluate change. Reflecting on these effects as a basis for further planning, critically informed action and so on, through a succession of cycles. Independent evaluation should receive sufficient resources to address the high-level questions that self-evaluation is unlikely to ask, as well as to spot-check the validity of self-evaluation claims.

Organizational Change and Development

The largest and most influential are the IMF and the World Bank. For instance, in Bolivia, several farmers now use some of the indicators developed in documenting their own trials. Learning for total quality: An action learning approach asserts that there is incongruity between what business schools teach and what business organizations actually need.
