North American Indian designs : iron

Notes on the designs give dates, dimensions, present locations of the artifacts and other data, while a bibliography suggests books for further reading.

North American Indian designs : Wilson, Eva, 1925

This collection assembles a broad range of these designs, including abstract and floral motifs as well as human, animal, and mythical figures. The illustrations span 2,000 years—from prehistoric pipe bowls carved in stone that date back to 100 B. This book is half filled with images, none of which have any descriptions as to which tribe the graphics are from.

Artists and craftspeople seeking genuine Indian designs will find this easily affordable, royalty-free volume an abundant source of timeless images. If you want a good book on Tribal designs and motifs, check out another resource by Dover, titled, 'Ready-to-Use North American Indian Motifs.

261 North American Indian Designs (Dover Pictorial Archive): Orban

The illustrations span 2,000 years — from prehistoric pipe bowls carved in stone that date back to 100 B. Florals, hunting scenes, stylized plants and animals, mythological figures, geometrics, double-curve motifs, feather designs, pictographs, border patterns, and many other designs have been selected and reproduced from the painted pottery of the Hopi, Hohokam, and Pueblo Indians; Navajo blankets and silverwork; wampum belts, quill work from Métis skin coats; parfleches rawhide containers, buffalo hides, and ceremonial pipes of the Sioux and other Plains Indians; antler combs of the Susquehannock and Seneca Iroquois; carved and painted masks; Chilkat blankets, spindle whorls, baskets and basket hats from the Northwest Coast; and many other examples of native North American art.
