Social accountability drives complex D&O/EPLI market in 2019

The contribution view strikes some as normatively basic, a view for which no further argument can be given D. This raises concerns that there may be greater potential for inadequate employer oversight of the activities of a pooled employer plan, its fiduciaries, and service providers than is true of more traditional employer-sponsored plans because participating employers pass along more responsibility to the pooled plan provider than they do in other plan arrangements. OMB approved the ICR on November 16, 2020.

Restraint of Trade Clauses

There is enhanced scrutiny by CFIUS of transactions involving non-U.
