In Paris, some 100,000 protesters braved the rain to march against reforms that will push back the retirement age of many French workers from 60 at present, organizers said. Social Policy Minister Lawrence Gonzi and Finance Minister John Dalli have been working hand in hand on the proposals on the basis of a number of studies on the welfare gap problem and, particularly, the sustainability of pensions as the number of pensioners rises in relation to the number of workers making national insurance contributions. According to Patric Artus, director of the economic studies of CDC Ixis, there is about 900 billion dollars in the American pension funds in the stock market.
