Fact Sheet: U.S. Relations With Haiti

Ackerman was suggesting, as well as with what the Chairman has suggested, which is the whole notion, whether it's in Panama, or Peru, or in Brazil the idea of changes in the constitution that allows for sort of a perennial Presidency. The Bank guarantees at all times in an absolute manner and without any restriction to exchange these provisional notes for legal money of the United States and reciprocally in accordance with the needs of commerce and as provided for in Articles 7, 8 and 11 of the Convention of April 12, 1919.

Chapter Three

Among Duvalier's earliest and most fervent supporters were many of the leading figures of the nation's movement. Exactly one year after his election, supporters from the various musical movements held a competition for songs to honor the president. Song books were then compiled into a book in Duvalier's honor. The composers represented the cream of the Haitian jazz movement. For example, Aristide O. Murat, Jean Legros, Gerard Dupreuil, Joe Toussaint, Alfred Dofette, and Luc Mouchot. Entitled Chanteur populaire compositeur en l'honneur du chef d'état de la nation, the book represented in the words of its editors, "a poetic cry of a people thirsty for freedom and which is trying to express all the remarkable emotions aroused in them for a man worthy of directing their destiny. As you can ascertain through the songs, the people by no means had an exaggerated passion for defining their leader but instead a great concern with improving their condition."

In the contrary a religious passion for Duvalier was very much in evidence. A famous portrait of Duvalier showed him seated at a desk with Jesus standing behind him. The general use of praise names like "Bon Papa" (good father), "Messinger", "Seigneur", were also part of the effort to sacralize his reign. Religious imagery is prominent in songs from the volume in this prize. For example, Jean Legros (brother of David Legros) wrote:

Duvalier bon papa Duvalier bon chef d'état Cé bon Dieu qui nous a la Père tout saint Haiti Haiti est régénérée Grâce à Duvalier Toute route est asphaltée Toute traversée est bien touchée Duvalier chef principal Cé bon Dieu nous a la Bon Dieu nous a la Cé bon Dieu qui nous a la	Duvalier, good Father Duvalier, good Chief of State It's God who puts you here In order to save Haiti Haiti is regenerating Thanks to Duvalier Every road will be paved in asphalt Every worker will be well paid Duvalier, chief of personnel Who comes to cross us in glory God sustains you for six years You must remain to complete your term

In addition to their patriotism and dedication, the songs give vent to the personal desires often found in Haitian "salacious" songs. The songs plead for a forceful rule of the country, providing a glimpse into

Signed at New York on 29 June 1982 43 p Agreement between the United Nations and Panama regarding the establishment of a United Nations Information Centre in Panama. She renounces in favor of Great Britain her state property in the British concession at Canton and of France and China jointly of the property of the German school in the French concession at Shanghai. The was limited by the fact that only the Great Powers of Europe took part, and its means of conflict resolution arbitration only worked as long as each power agreed to submit.

Text of May 7: A permanent Commission shall be constituted to advise the Council on the execution of the provisions of Articles 1 and 8 and on military and naval questions generally. The situation was further undermined because Britain and France tried, unsuccessfully, to negotiate a secret deal with Mussolini the Hoare-Laval Pact that would settle the dispute peacefully by allowing Italy to retain control of some Ethiopian territory. That status was not altered by an agreement between the United Kingdom and the Emirate concluded on February 20, 1928 League of Nations, Official Journal, 1928, p.
