Federal :: Indian Child Welfare Act Proceedings

Some of the information that is required to be provided, such as identifying and Tribal enrollment information, is necessary so that that Tribes can determine whether the child is a member of the Tribe or eligible for membership. The final rule promotes compliance with ICWA from the earliest stages of a child-welfare proceeding.

Nutrition and Hydration Restriction of food and fluids in labour is a practice that dates back to the 1940s. Postpartum hemorrhage is defined as blood loss of more than 500 mL during vaginal birth or more than 1000 mL during caesarean birth. In addition, State courts may also make additional determinations imposing consequences for failure to provide meaningful notice.

It defines normal delivery as one that has a spontaneous onset of labour and progresses without drugs and where the birth is spontaneous.

Chapter 4: Care during labour and birth

A commenter noted that this requirement places a large burden on State agencies to provide active efforts for all possibly Indian children when Tribes may take months to respond to a request for verification.

Chapter 4: Care during labour and birth

Seeing as intermittent auscultation is versatile, it may serve to normalize low-risk births. Pain Management: Non-Pharmacological, Pharmacological and Epidural Options Perception of pain is highly individual.
