National Union of Boot and Shoe Operatives

Free trade and laissez faire were the gospel of the ultra-pros- perous capitalists, and the Victorian Age, in which British capi- talism was to reach its highest point of prosperity, was well under way. This was inaugurated in 1922 and, by a voluntary contribution of a few pence per week, supplemented by donations from the employers entitled employees to hospital treatment, free convalescent home treatment, glasses and surgical appliances.
