It should also be remembered that Dorothea Beale had never herself known what it was to be poor; she could hardly realise, for instance, the comfort that might exist in the uniform school dress for children whose parents were actually too poor to provide them with proper clothing. The iron railings from Armley Road Schools in Leeds were dismantled by a working party on 19 th February and placed in storage at Crich for future use alongside the depot fan. The last GWR locomotive to carry the name was number 7007, which continued to carry it in British Railways days.

Herbert Austin, 1st Baron Austin

The estimated cost of materials was £2,000. Leave it then, and if nothing more congenial presents itself, we can afford to wait our time, and let us try together if we cannot carry forward, or at least make more widely known, our views of what might be effected if your half of the human family more extensively used that influence of which they are all the dispensers, as men are of their power. She gave weekly examinations on the subjects studied, thus affording opportunity for English composition.
