An end to the war between evolution and Christian theology?

To build a house or paint a picture involves working with existing materials and either action is radically different from creation.

The one theology book all atheists really should read

The text tells us that God has hardened Israel but it also tells us that this hardening is temporary. But even if the universe were not to have had a temporal beginning, it still would depend upon God for its very being, its existence.

The problem

This is discussed in more detail at. What is the scientific support for evolution? But such complete causing is precisely what creation is.

The problem

We have been online for almost 24 years! In this light, it is clear that human life must be connected with all life on earth through common parentage and descent.

Church of Reality

This is the conceptual revolution that Darwin completed that everything in nature, including the origin of living organisms, can be explained by material processes governed by natural laws.

One Book One Northwestern

As we have seen, that everything is created that is, completely dependent upon God as cause of existence is a truth about nature which cannot be explained by material causality.
