

Picturing a nation - art and social change in nineteenth-century America

Yale University Press - Picturing a Nation

Description: -

-

Religion

United States -- Social life and customs -- 19th century -- Pictorial works.

Painting, American -- 19th century. Picturing a nation - art and social change in nineteenth-century America

-Picturing a nation - art and social change in nineteenth-century America

Notes: Includes bibliographical references p. (321-358) and index.

This edition was published in 1994

Filesize: 12.910 MB

Tags: #Picturing #a #Nation: #Art #and #Social #Change #in #Nineteenth

Yale Publications in the History of Art: Picturing a Nation : Art and Social Change in Nineteenth

Weber Professor of Art at. Lubin Special Attributes: Dust Jacket, Inscribed. .

Yale Publications in the History of Art: Picturing a Nation : Art and Social Change in Nineteenth

Lubin has received fellowship awards from , , Yale University, and the 's Center for Advanced Study in the Visual Arts, as well as the , the , and the . The Art Bulletin publishes leading scholarship in the English language in all aspects of art history as practiced in the academy, museums, and other institutions. Insisting on the complexity of nineteenth-century culture, Lubin provides multiple interpretations of individual paintings in a manner both subtle and revealing.

Picturing a Nation: Art and Social Change in Nineteenth

Whatever we bring to or carry away from Lubin's work, we need its challenges to our thinking about painting and politics in nineteenth-century art. Chapter titles include The Politics of Method; Labyrinths of Meaning in Vanderlyn's Ariadne; Bingham's Boone; Reconstructing Duncanson; Lilly Martin Spencer's Domestic Genre Painting In Antebellum America; Guys and Dolls: Framing Femininity in Post-Civil War America; Masculinity, Nostalgia, and the Trompe l'Oeil Still-Life Paintings of William Harnett.

Yale Publications in the History of Art: Picturing a Nation : Art and Social Change in Nineteenth

Description: New Haven, CT: Yale University Press, 1994. The journal, which welcomes submissions from scholars worldwide and at every career stage, is published four times a year in March, June, September, and December by the College Art Association.

Picturing a Nation, Art & Social Change in 19th Century America, by Lubin Signed

When artists depict the world around them, says David Lubin, their images necessarily respond to the underlying social conflicts of their time. Picturing the Nation is brilliant, enjoyable, bountiful, flabbergasting in all the ways one would expect.

9780300057324

His analyses take into account the nation's ambivalence toward domesticity, its conflicting ideas about child raising, its racial disharmony, territorial expansion, and many other issues central to the formation of modern America.

Related Books

- Leaders guide to the use and study of materials on intergroup education
- États-Unis et le Vietnam - Textes et Documents de Source Américaine \(Automne 1965: Année 1966\).
- Sguardo escluso - l'idea di paesaggio nella letteratura occidentale
- Telomeres and telomerase in aging, disease, and cancer - molecular mechanisms of adult stem cell age
- Palmeras