So, although it already existed as a village with coaching inns in the horse and carriage era, most of the town's earliest architecture is Victorian. A maximum of 2 lines in use at any time per angler. It escaped demolition in 1906, but never recovered its popularity, although the grounds with the miniature railway and the big dipper were still a success.

With the newly formed London Borough of Sutton in 1965, the house became the Sutton.

SUTTON PARK SUPPLIES LTD

The absence of built development or cultivation, except for some ploughing during the Second World War, has ensured the survival of extensive earthworks, including the boundaries and subdivisions of the medieval deer park, woodbanks and sawpits from historical woodland management, as well as evidence of past sporting use and troop training since the 19th century.

Outside, there is an established landscaped rear garden and picturesque front garden. The park has open heathland, woodlands, seven lakes, wetlands and marshes as well as the Wyndley Leisure where facilities include a 33-metre swimming pool. Thank you for helping the rangers to conserve the plants and wildlife in this historic country park.
