Consumer Protection in the Age of Borderless Markets and the Information Revolution

Introduction Global Economy is the result of increasing economic interdependence of national economies across the world through a rapid increase in cross border movement of goods, services, technology and capital. Unfamiliarity with the ground rules for advertising may also be a problem when advertisers from other countries start to appear on the Internet. In 1992, I participated in the founding of the International Marketing Supervision Network, an international body of criminal and civil law enforcement agencies having responsibilities to protect consumers against fraud.
