Nuclear geophysical logging for Gondwana coal exploration: a case study at Phulbari Coal Basin, northern part of Bangladesh

Wiener filter for separation of fields from different levels. Different methods of lithology predictions from geophysical data have been developed in the last 15 years, among which the conventional logs are as follows: sonic, neutron—neutron, natural gamma, and density backscattered gamma—gamma.

Analysis of Geophysical Potential Fields, Volume 5

Potential field in frequency domain. Stochastic model for the density and susceptibility.

Potential Field Signals and Models.

Analysis of Geophysical Potential Fields, Volume 5

When some useful information is hidden behind a mass of unwanted information we often resort to information processing used in its broad sense or specifically to signal processing when the useful information is a waveform
