RIDGWAY'S PARATROOPERS, The AMERICAN AIRBORNE in WORLD WAR II

On 7 June, after this first wave of attack, the 325th GIR would arrive by glider to provide a division reserve.

Airborne: A Combat History of American Airborne Forces

Nevertheless, the scattered airborne troops maximised their opportunities, attacking patrols and creating confusion wherever possible.

82nd Airborne Division

Both the British and the French accomplished total military victory against the disorganized Egyptian military and local armed civilians but political events forced total retreat of these forces after 48 hours of fighting.
