Authenticity (philosophy)

How authentic can you be when you work in advertising, marketing, telesales? Reblogged this on and commented: Lynne Fisher has written an excellent post about the transformative affect that authenticity as personality. The latest Gallup employee engagement research, conducted in 2012, showed that the top quartile of the 192 companies with the highest engagement numbers have 37 percent less absenteeism, 25 percent lower turnover, 21 percent higher productivity and 22 percent higher profitability. Telling a lie creates stress in the body, and research shows that continuous stress can contribute to the development of major illnesses such as heart disease, depression and obesity.

The book offers tools to get out of saboteur mode and instead cultivate wise behaviors.

On Being Authentic by Charles Guignon

Once we learn this, we have an ease and peace we only imagined before. It is also described as a revelatory state, where one perceives oneself, other people, and sometimes even things, in a radically new way.

John to the seven churches that are in Asia: Grace to you and peace from him who is and who was and who is to come, and from the seven spirits who are before his throne, and from Jesus Christ the faithful witness, the firstborn of the dead, and the ruler of kings on earth. Hard times arouse an instinctive desire for authenticity. It is to speak into your heart direction, correction and to bring about maturity so you discover who you are and how to relate and live your life and how to fulfil a purpose.

Being Authentic

He argues ultimately that if we are to rescue the ideal of being authentic, we have to see ourselves as fundamentally social creatures, embedded in relationships and communities, and that being authentic is not about what is owed to me but how I depend on others.

The Importance of Being Authentic

Most people no doubt have the idea that to step out on the stage as an actor, to venture into the danger of having all eyes focused on one, is something that requires courage. Particularly in this context of constant upheaval and change, the practices of authentic leaders allow them to create trust and connection and lower the collective blood pressure in the organization. Authentic leaders are at the root of trust, engagement, innovation, great client experiences, talent growth—and, ultimately, results.

Authenticity (philosophy)

And this is eternal life, that they know you the only true God, and Jesus Christ whom you have sent. The first step is being able to name what we feel and need in order to communicate effectively. Durch Expertenbefragungen wurden drei Determinanten-Kataloge anhand von Werbespots mit Elementen von Markenauthentizität getestet.
