IVD

A multidisciplinary POCT committee who can oversee the POCT activity in secondary settings should also be established.

Point of Care Testing (POCT)

Fail-safe features on POC devices inevitably involve blocking access when users fail to stay current with required training, Hattingh says, which often just frustrates doctors and nurses.

Regulating the Point of Care: The IVD Connectivity Industry Consortium

Hematology tests are conducted on a separate device.

In

After the patient sample has been added, the cartridge is sealed and inserted into the analyzer Left Bottom FDA also concluded that based on the risks to public health from false test results, revocation is appropriate to protect the public health or safety.
