Role of Intellectual Property Rights in

the Benefit Sharing Arrangements: The Case of Bio

Tibetans have taken keenly to mobile phones, and to ecommerce, at least in urban areas where the big online corporations do deliver. Western Sichuan contains the highest reserves of Li2O in China.

If China was solely concerned with protection of the Tibetan antelopes, it would have included their full migratory range, for a species whose pregnant females travel great distances to give birth safe from predators, across provincial boundaries beyond Qinghai, in both Xinjiang and Tibet Autonomous Region. Only one year after the antelopes and their Tibetan protectors were celebrated across China as heroes, the tone changed. Not only can the right metaphor reset the terms of debate, our understanding of what is at stake, it rehumanises the abstract, brings home the lifeworlds of those afar.

The most important is the non-disclosure of the art. It is constantly gaining momentum, and its power is constantly increasing, causing your bewilderment to grow over time. The Lhagangpa could get on with their lives, with herding their animals, ploughing the fields and growing barley, remembering once more that life is about much more than production.

Law

Meanwhile, under a deluge of tens of millions of domestic Chinese tourists, UNESCO has increasingly worried that the values for which it was accepted are seriously threatened.

As the antelopes flee, the train seldom stops at these desolate platforms. The management plan elaborates a section on community involvement and development, including a pilot programme for participative management approaches in Sanjiangyuan Nature Reserve, and there is involvement of local communities in monitoring activities. Tantalum, though rare, has innumerable hi-tech uses, and fresh applications, led by military-industrial research, continue to expand.

Those two words cut through all the jargon, the hundreds of pages of Chinese official reports on the geology, hydrology, ecology, species dynamics etc.

Role of Intellectual Property Rights in the Benefit Sharing Arrangements: The Case of Bio

In distant Tianjin, on the coast beyond Beijing, a TV station held a telethon fund raiser to buy jeeps and fuel for the Wild Yak Brigade. It all becomes self-reinforcing yet again.
