1,000 Years of Irish Poetry book by Kathleen Hoagland

He wrote this message so that he could communicate with the future after he has died. The second quid is somewhat redundant picking up the first si quid.

Locksley Hall

At several times, alas, greater Persia reverted to extreme Islamic austerity. In his introduction he provides fascinating background detail on Persian poetry written by women through the ages, including common themes and motifs and a brief overview of Iranian history showing how women poets have been affected by the changing dynasties. In fact, many are inspired by ecstatic music from other cultures, especially the Iranian and the Indian.

2000 Years of Latin Prose: Chapter 1: Ennius — Latinitium

Lá léan ar an té a déarfadh nach tú mo ghean. It describes the revived emotion in a jaded and spend-thrift city MP as he recalls the excitement of his youth foxhunting in Leicestershire, and foresees the end of his Victorian aristocratic society: Can I but regain my credit can I spend spent cash again Hide me from my deep emotion O thou wonderful champagne Make me feel the wild pulsation I have often felt before When my horse went on before me and my hack was at the door later: Saw the landlords yield their acres after centuries of wrongs To the Cotton Lords to whom it's proved all property belongs Queen Religion State abandoned and all flags of party furled In the government of and the dotage of the world. More than 2,000 of his poems survive.

Poetry, Gongorism, And A Thousand Years by Robinson Jeffers

Since old poems remain and modern Chinese can understand them to some extent, they are still appreciated. Nuances and connotations may be lost. It was written by Lady Heguri in mid-late eighth century.

Thousand years of poetry. 2016

In this dream Homerus, or Homer, the author of the most famous Greek epics, the Illiad and the Odyssey, appears before Ennius to inform him that his own soul had been reborn in the later poet. Tennyson's poetry; authoritative texts, and early responses, criticism.

Locksley Hall

These are the first things that come to his mind when considering the future. Every gate is throng'd with suitors, all the markets overflow.

A poem to read in the bath... ‘A thousand years, you said’ by Lady Heguri

He does not want to spend time learning about the buildings or what they are made of.

Love Me For A Thousand Years Poem by Charles M Moore

Stanza Three But have you wine and music still, And statues and a bright-eyed love, And foolish thoughts of good and ill, And prayers to them who sit above? Homer is spoken of a prophet, and the speaker needs to know if humankind still reflects the ideas Homer put forth. I look at the hand you held And the ache is too hard to bear. Then Glauca dies while yet young.
