3 Transforming Practice

We recently received word from the American Nurses Credentialing Center that we will have our ANCC Magnet Program onsite visit this summer. Federal, state, local, and other regulatory and recognition actions are necessary for EBP adoption. This goal can be achieved by ensuring education and training for health professionals, so they will be able to contribute positively in meeting Qatar healthcare needs.

Combating Stress

Engaging clinical nurses in quality improvement projects. In this study, the authors aimed to develop a master list of informatics competencies for nurses in different levels of practice based on their 2001 work. Now, more than ever, 2020 has brought into focus just how important nurses are across the world and here in Texas.
