Official Guide to Government Information and Services

In the long-term perspective, transportation businesses should prepare for upcoming technology changes within the industry and start equipping their trucks with self-navigating management systems that can «learn» from real drivers. We aim to contribute to the dialogue as we all collectively wrestle with the impact and implications of the future of mobility.

The newest transportation industry trends in 2021

For example, carsharing services, such as Zipcar, have roughly doubled their customer base in the last six years, while ridesharing services, such as Uber, have been adding 50,000 drivers per month and completed 140 million rides worldwide in 2014 alone. The auto industry currently struggles with the fundamental economics of an intensely competitive business with enormous capital requirements; operating margins and return on invested capital remain low.

Forms

In his role as a principal with Deloitte Consulting LLP, US, Joe serves as the lead client service partner LCSP for one of the largest global automotive original equipment manufacturers OEMs.

COVID

In this state, economic scale and increased competition drive the expansion of shared vehicle services into new geographic territories and more specialized customer segments.
