The map seems to indicate that Lisburn Castle, like Richhill, was roughly E-shaped, with three projecting wings on its western front and buttresses to the north and south.

A County Down Tour

All the good work of the last 15 years could so easily be undone. These included English, German and Dutch pottery; decorated delft tiles; clay pipes; goblet, window and flower pot glass; brooches, pins and other metal work; cut sandstone and glazed roof tiles possibly from the Castle Phase 6. .
