Nepal : PSI

This is a more business firm oriented organization. Providing regular employment over a long period of time leads to improved livelihood for workers and their families, including increased access to education, health services and more.

Dakchyata Nepal

Economic activity in Nepal, which rebounded strongly in FY2017, reaching 7.

Manipal Global Academy of BFSI

We analyse the implication of public-private initiatives on different operators in the value chain, particularly vulnerable groups.

Policy Research Organizations in Nepal

Pacific Island Context 'Engaging with the private sector' is a broad formulation. Nepal has also committed to balancing the nationwide use of permanent methods, long-term reversible methods and short-term methods.

Nepal : PSI

Prudential indicators of banking and financial institutions remained within regulatory targets: non-performing loans stood at 1. PSI Nepal also coordinates national communication campaigns to raise awareness about safe abortion and long-acting reversible contraceptives at the community, regional and national level. The concept of donors bilateral and multilateral engaging with and developing the private sector in the Pacific is not new and the space is quite crowded.

Global Agriculture and Food Security Program

The organization should device or creates a more conductive environment where their employees can participate in some delicate decision to be made like conference, seminars, and workshops. These activities will be maintained at an international standard under the policies declared on health by Government of Nepal, ultimately improving the overall condition of health services. On the expenditure side, a contraction in private consumption and investment was marginally offset by positive contributions from government expenditures on wages and COVID-19 related expenditures on health and social assistance and net exports driven by lower imports.

Project topics onThe Impact of Employees participation in decision making and organizational productivity in private sector.

An employees is some one hired by an employer under a contract of employment of performance work on a regular basis. It forms an integral part of the Pacific Plan for Strengthening Regional Cooperation and Integration.
