Book review

Responsibility: Ivan Bunin ; with an introduction by William Sansom.

The Gentleman from San Francisco, and Other Stories by Ivan Alekseevich Bunin

Not sure if this is the edition I read, but probably they have most of the same stories. Of course Turgenev and other Russians have great pictorial power too, but Bunin's words really leap off this page with astonishing beauty. This is a letter from a reader to an unnamed author.

The Gentleman from San Francisco and other stories

I can't wait to read more things he has written. I was captivated the entire time, and I even found myself laughing in certain parts. The stories are set in Russia, parts of Europe and France, where the author lived the last 30 years of his life.

One is a famous medical person, a writer. They talk, she tells him nothing of her troubles and they simply part. He gets very jealous thinking of her with others and tragedy follows.

The Gentleman from San Francisco and other stories

Again it is this penchant of Bunin to see human relationships as rather shallow and meaningless.
