Born at Edge- field, South Carolina, February 7, 1862. Absurd as it seems to every man of common sense, there are persons claiming to be philosophers who not only assert that they did, but will tell you how they did it. Our last sketch of Street Architecture is taken from a district of the metropolis which has been long known to fame by the name of Spitalfields, and presents a style, not unpicturesque in some instances, which is peculiar to this locality.
