Mild scuffing and soiling to boards. Westbrook designed a system that was modelled on the efficient London fire services, taking ground realities of Calcutta into account. Their regulation and order of duty in case of full-time employed is according to the professional municipal firemen and the level of safety more specialized to the characteristics of the establishment.

Products

If a fire was seen, the men spun the rattles, then directed the responding citizens to form bucket brigades. If a fire started everyone in the community would probably be involved in putting it out, so the communal equipment needed to be conveniently stored.
