Pebble Mill

Several factories were built on adjacent sites at this time and the old mill buildings apparently became part of the factory premises. The daytime drama series was made between 2000 and 2004. There were two other millers in the district in 1818.

Economic and Social History: Mills

Arthur Holden, paint manufacturer, held Bournbrook Mill in 1873; the former mill pool, known as Kirby's Pools, was then used for boating.

Plans submitted for Edgbaston Cancer Treatment Centre

The lease for the site was acquired from the Calthorpe Estate on a by the BBC.

Circle Hospital

If Holte's Mill is correctly identified with Coldbath Mill then Bedell apparently reconstructed Sarehole Mill at this time. During their tenure, which lasted at least until 1875, the premises were still used both for flour milling and other trades. A report into the abuse at homes in Clwyd and Gwynedd stated the number of absconders could be an alarm bell of abuse at the home.

Pebble Mill

With a focus on refining the tools, culture and structures needed to free up doctors and nurses to focus on patients, this approach has delivered efficiency and quality, with clinical outcomes consistently showing excellent performance, as a result they have gained a number of high-profile awards.

Memories

The programme makers at Pebble Mill always seemed to open up the complex to the viewer, making it a fascinating site for anyone with a growing interest in television production.
