The Economy: Unit 18 The nation and the world economy

For example, consider two industries that require employees with different levels of skills and education: a skill-intensive industry information technology and a non skill-intensive industry consumer electronics assembly. This allows lower-cost production, which benefits home-economy buyers, employees, and owners of these successful firms, as well as external buyers. See: Tax Tax is a method to discourage consumption of certain goods.

But if either one of them were to specialize in wheat and the other in apples and then share the resulting crops equally, they could have four times as much wheat and apples as they would have in the absence of specialization. Governments raised trade costs in the form of tariffs to counteract the impact of the fall in other trade costs, notably transportation.

Factors of Production (4 Factors)

In the short run at least, those workers employed in the industry that their nation does not specialize in will lose out. On April 28, Prime Minister Trudeau a joint statement with premiers across Canada on their shared public health approach to support restarting the economy; all provinces began to implement detailed, data-driven plans to reopen in May. Containment started early and was gradually tightened from border controls, to closure of schools, universities, open markets, and restrictions on intercity travel.
