Capability approach

The Applicant's data and conclusions have been accepted by DEC Staff as a basis for permitting this project. In relevant part, that section requires that the mining plan contain a description of the Applicant's proposed method for preventing pollution when and to the extent necessary to achieve compliance with DEC water quality regulations. An alternative definition of intermix community emphasizes a population density of between 28-250 people per square mile.

Although the OSS was leaving, the War Department had other uses for the property at Catoctin Mountain Park.

Converting Catoctin Mountain Park into Military Camps (U.S. National Park Service)

Staff has adopted the Gifford analysis, but the town has not, providing its own report, dated January 25, 1994, by Jeffrey Evans, a consulting engineer in Lewisburg, Pa. Through the 1940s, individuals and committees worked on problems of classifying rangeland, woodland, irrigated land, and dry farming areas.
